RANGERS

Class of "80"

Standing upon the shore of all we know
We linger for a moment doubtfully,
Then with a song upon our lips, sail we
Across the harbor bar – no chart to show,
No light to warn of rocks which lie below,
But let us yet put forth courageously.

Do not stand by my grave and weep,
I am not there.
I do not sleep.
I am a thousand winds that blow.
I am a diamond glint on snow.
I am the sunlight on ripened grain.
I am the gentle autumn rain.
When you awake in the morning hush.
I am the swift upflinging rush of quiet birds in circling flight.
I am the soft star shine at night.
Do not stand by my grave and cry,
I am not there.
I did not die.

CLASS HISTORY

We arrived as freshmen in the fall of 1976 to Methuen High School. In the course of our four years here, some of us felt the school should have taken on a more personal, lived-in look. The bathrooms and lockers, once unmarred, soon displayed catchy sayings and masterpieces of art. (We always knew there was talent in this class.) Thanks to our resident pyromaniac, the North House bathrooms were remodeled — finally.

But back in 1976, as naive and innocent freshmen, we were guided to our classes (usually the wrong ones) by the trusted upperclassmen. We soon learned our way around the school (with no help from them), but we weren't as naive as they thought. We finally realized that being freshmen was the perfect excuse for arriving late to classes. Some of us, especially Chris Haigh and Michelle Catania, became quite proficient in the art of being tardy to the point of absenteeism. Our class officers at the time were the following: Karen Murad, Paula Hynes, and Pegi Lever.

With one year behind us, we adapted to the roll of "sophomores" very easily. Although we could no longer be classified as "wet behind the ears," John Hadley proved to be wet all over after an unexpected shower in Biology lab. With the help of Dale Dimaggio, Paula Hynes, Gael Heggarty, and Pegi Lever, our class officers, we received our rings. Feeling as if we could do no wrong, we flaunted our new rings from Josten's under the nose of every underclassman we could find.

Sophomore year sped by, and we were soon juniors. Though we wished to prove ourselves as upperclassmen, we were forced to be classified as underclassmen for the powderpuff football game — which we lost (We would have won if it weren't for the referees). We started to make regular trips to guidance as we looked ahead to our college years. SAT's, college fairs, and catalogue collecting was soon upon us. Our two formal events of the year, organized by our class officers Dale Dimaggio, John Fitzpatrick, Karen Waks and Pegi Lever, were the Holly Ball and The Junior Semi-Formal at DiBurro's in Bradford. Speaking of formal events, all the junior Honor Society inductees of the 1978-79 school year fondly remember how they all changed their names to Diane Moore for one day, the day of induction. Stevens Studio stopped by that year to snap pictures of our lovely faces for the yearbook, and they nearly succeeded.

Then the day finally came, the day we walked through the doors of Methuen High School as seniors. But as we walked through those doors, we acquired more than just the title of seniors, we acquired a fatal and fun disease called senioritis. We were eager to find out just how much fun we could have and just how much we could get away with. Surely we all remember our favorite cheerleaders at the powderpuff football game, Mike DeChane, Jay Guzaj, Tim Haley, Ronnie Masucci, Mike Lorenzo, Bill Barry, Dave Marchand (who did some advertising for Burger King), John Poublon, Mark Machera, and Doug Moore to name a few.

Our Football Team with its four captains Glenn Saba, Andy Baker, Tony Masucci, and Mike Carney was strongly supported by devoted fans who followed the team in many-a-car caravans. Shawn Morrissey and Chris Murray became very handy with a spray can (though they failed spelling) and Ronnie Masucci took a quickie course in turkey sitting at football games. Speaking of birds, Mr. Russell must have been thrilled to have an attentive student in his class the day the seagull made its visit, and we are sure the science department was also thrilled when they found some of their students showed an interest in nuclear power. By the way, complete plans to the Seabrook Nuclear Power Plant may be obtained from Mike Carney, Bill Barry, Mark Machera, or Chris Murray who acquired them from first hand experience. To get back to birds, Gina Berthiaume, Janet Delucca, and Arthur Hagopian went to Cape Cod one school day in search of seagulls (probably the relatives of the ones that attended Mr. Russell's class) and to their surprise, they bumped into Methuen High School's Student Senate. They were almost bumped out of Methuen High School.

The year flew by and before we knew it, the weather was getting warmer. Beach day became an often-used phrase and what better to do at the beach than play volleyball. Lisa DiPietro, Tom Beaulieu, and John Fitzpatrick would like to thank the Methuen High School Physical Education Department for the use of their volleyball poles. Kittery, Maine was also a favorite vacation spot. I hear the postcards from there are very nice.

Not only has this year produced many great vacations, but it has also produced some great sports teams. The soccer team led by Dan Caraccio, Doug Moore, Dave Gemollaro, and Dave Collopy produced a successful season although Mr. Sorter learned how cold one's ears could get without any hair to cover them. The track teams had many stars during the course of the year, such as Mike DeChane, Andy Baker, Tim Haley, Cheryl Grasso, Faith Kenyon, and Donna Carbonneau. The team was also known for their trips to Dartmouth and New York where each team member was said to make friends quickly. Jeff Desrosiers became the constant companion to a bucket, every time his face turned green. Unlike 1978, when snow was in abundance, the ski team had one of its slower seasons. They did, however, enjoy every minute running the stairs. Thanks to the help of seniors like Debbie Brearly, Nancy Szostak, Ro Catteau, Nancy Rochefort and Sandy Ward, girl's basketball, softball, and field hockey had terrific seasons and captured many titles.

But the year's activities were not yet over. The not-soon-to-be-outdone Senior Class Play, "The Beverly Hillbillies" made its debut in mid-March 1980. The play, starring Dave Collopy, Kathy Kenney, Matt Foderaro, and Jude Jennings was a big success. And Next time Big Jethro reaches into a paper shopping bag, he'll be more careful about what he pulls out. Mary Beth Manning, Kathi Welch, and Pegi Lever also made their presence known on the stage in more ways than one, Mary Beth with her bathing suit, Kathi with her voice, and Pegi with her ostrich feathers. Arthur Hagopian, Kathi Leger, Ralph Lorenza and Debbie Contarino also contributed great performances and their excellent humor to make the play a success. The parties afterwards were quite a hit, too, even if some of us had to sit under the table. And Arthur and Jay danced the last waltz divinely together during the play party Saturday night at Diburro's Restaurant.

As the close of our senior year is now upon us, we have celebrated with parties, beach days, banquets, and awards and, of course, the Senior Prom, thanks to John Fitzpatrick, Scott Jenkins, Sandy Marcinkevich, and Jim Buco. Everyone who attended will not easily forget how Mary Jane Jennings and Arthur Hagopian sang their way into the hearts of millions that night. The Sheraton Rolling Green provided a pleasant atmosphere in which we could enjoy Labonza, Messenger, and the evening, but the Showcase Cinema, and the beach provided a better atmosphere in which we could enjoy the morning.

With June 8th close at our heels, we would like to wish all of you a happy graduation, and we hope that the memories you have gathered at Methuen High School are ones you will cherish forever . . . . . And that's the way it was.

Janet DeLucca and Dale DiMaggio

CLASS WILL

We, the Senior Class of 1980, being of somewhat sound mind and body, do hereby bequeath the following possessions to our fellow classmates and faculty members:

We, Lisa DiPietro and Mary Beth Manning, leave to Mrs. Vanhorn, Mr. Rigby's book, "How to Cope with Senioritis." Good Luck.

I, Sandy Marcinkevich, leave Mr. Hughes one thrown out arm I never accomplished. As Senior Class Secretary of 1980, I leave to the Senior Class Secretary of 1981 a heck of a job.

We, Kath and Cath, leave Mrs. Krusell one parrot who speaks English.

I, Statz, leave Mr. Klimas my shirt in hopes that he can fill it.

We, Noreen, Marisa, Mike C., Gretchen, Mark, and Mike D., leave Mrs. McGrath another year with T.J. Qualters, A bottle of 409, and a roll of paper towels to wipe away the mistakes.

I, Kaka, leave Inga baby, 10 steady Michael A's who are Catholic and no hassles from Mom. I also leave her many more fun years at our home away from home.

We, Rick Appleyard and Pam Dorsey, leave Mr. Salemi an audition on the Gong Show to tell his jokes.

I, Rick Appleyard, leave my gymnastics colleagues all my pushups and situps for next year's season. I also leave my brother Jeff, gladly.

We, C level physics class, leave Wild Bill Russell, "Joe Pro Physics Major Michael Sexton," the boy who thinks he knows everything except Mr. Russell's phone number.

I, Karen, leave Mr. Russell one pink bubble popped all over my face for his own personal satisfaction for all the many times I nearly got it in his physics class.

We, Marissa, Jane, and Sue, leave Miss Dinan an evening at the Kahala with Tom Day.

I, Mother Zonkers, leave Sharon Roberge, one large box of Kleenex.

We, the second row of Mr. Melnicki's 6th period class, leave him the second half to his class which we missed regularly.

I, Dave, leave my locker to a poor freshman.

We, the late Donna Tracy, Kathy, Karen, Dianne, and Jane leave to Boo, six bloody noses, five rowdy parties, four aching muscles, three extra pounds, two sprained ankles, and one great ski weekend at Pat's Peak. Thanks.

I, Al, leave Mr. Dodson "Frank" to carry on a tradition of noise in F level study where I left off.

We, Tom and Tim, leave to Tony Vicari the Captainship of the Archaelogy Club.

I, Nancy, leave John a bottle to put his finger in.

We, Ellen, Cathy, and Marissa, leave Mr. Melnicki, three attentive students to fill our seats in the back row.

I, Dawna Carbonneau, leave Alice and Sheilah a book of 101 ways to get out of practice. I also leave Mr. Hughes running on and on and on . . .

We, Deb, John, and Boo, leave Kathy Kenney one lifeguard and one case of Molson.

I, Jane Hathaway leave my What Ho to whoever wants it in next years' senior play.

We, Janet, Arthur, and Paul leave Cheryl a fishmarket full of cod, Salisbury Beach at 5:00 in the morning, and Murray's bathroom key.

I, Janet, leave Gina an open phone line anytime she needs me. I leave Cheryl a senior year as fun as mine was and the nerve to do anything. I leave Diane the power to understand, and Donna Lynn, Debbie, Darlene, and Maureen the power to help her.

We, Mr. Lebowitz's B level class, leave him Andy Baker.

I, Kathi Welch, leave Robin, Laurie, Gina, Sharon, Jackie, Dina, and Chantell, one pot of gold, two large kegs of beer, three complete days of "snow," four fifths of J.D., five large rooms to party in, six days to recover, and seven gorgeous men.

We, Kathy and Donna, leave to Mrs. Ken Hall, 10 pink frilly uncomfortable dresses for her little girl and one football shirt, dungarees, and sneakers for the little boy that someday she might have.

I, Pegi Lever, leave Mr. Halbauer two years' supply of descriptive modifiers to frustrate his students.

We, the "girls," leave Mr. Donlan 500 basketball programs to do with what he wills.

I, Dianne Stott, leave Pegi Lever 10 Christmas wreaths, 1 basket, and an accomplice for life. I leave Cathy Leger one million pieces of gum for future tests. I leave Mark Bardwell my best buddy to love and take care of. I leave my best buddy Hajj, "4½ dozen." I, "Big B" leave Little B" all the ruff times we've been through but it's been fun.

We, Donna, Dianne, Karen, Pegi, Boo, and the Twins, leave to Mr. Parolisi, a couple of cases of beer to give to his next years' Powder Puff Football Team while they are still in training.

I, Sherri Smith, leave Kim Watson one million and one Pink Stickers.

We, the seniors of the North House Activities Area, leave to Mr. Hughes and Mr. Lebowitz, The Class of 1981, to scream at, to give detention to, to tell them to stop eating, to ask them if they are on yearbook staff, to hit, and to send to Mr. Nicholson. The North House Activities Area says Good-bye!

I, Kim Watson, leave Mr. Russell, one big mouthed girl who gets as embarrassed as I do in all of his classes. I leave Sherri Smith one Mr. Bill T-shirt, one lifesized Mr. Bill doll, and one sound proof room so she can scream OH NOOO MR. BILL as much as she wants. I also leave my locker to the manly John Hadley.

We, Kim and John leave Mr. Halbauer, a sea of grinning faces and spit to choke on.

We, Joyce Godsey and Arthur Hagopian leave Miss Walsh a life time enrollment at the "Joe Louise School of Charm" and The Dale Carnegie course on "How to Win Friends and Influence People." We also leave her a class of new freshmen to satisfy her sadistic needs.

We, the Senior Class of 1980 leave to Mr. Whiting, our thanks for his generous time and the courage to go on for at least one more year.

We, Karen and Arthur leave each other — GLADLY!!

Signed and attested to this fifth day of June Nineteen Hundred and Eighty.

Karen Waks and Arthur Hagopian

Standing upon the shore of all we know
We linger for a moment doubtfully,
Then with a song upon our lips, sail we
Across the harbor bar - no chart to show,
No lights to warn of rocks which lie below,
But let us yet put forth courageously.

T. S. Eliot
